

Day 1, 09 December 2021 E202/205 (program may change last minute!)

	E612
8:30-9:00	Morning Coffee, Tea, Snacks and your name tag
	E205
9:00-9:25	The Organizers: Welcome to BudPT21
HNE	Session 1A (E205)		HM	Session 1B (E202)
9:30-10:00	Anastasiia Babash	The perfect one: should we allow technologies to find our soulmates?		Jesse de Pagter	Robotics futures: The analysis of technological potential
10:00-10:30	Radu Uszkai	Revenge of the droids: Star Wars, civil disobedience and the moral status of artificial agents		Daniel Paksi	Technological Singularity by Culture
10:30-11:00	Eszter Héder-Nádasi	Covid-19 in medical television series		Ehsan Arzroomchilar, Daniel D. Novotný	Digital Life and the Rise of Fundamentalism
11:00-11:15	E612: coffee break
HNE	Session 2A		KSZ	Session 2B
11:15-11:45	Jacopo Bodini	Screening, recording and repeating the voice		Hédi Csordás, Krisztina Szabó	Going online in Covid-19 - An empirical research of student's preferences concerning digital learning material in 2020-21
11:45-12:15	Constantin Vică, Cristina Voinea	Turing's children lack of moral motivation		Yusuf Yüsekdağ	Ethics of Data Relations and Smart City
12:15-12:45	Beáta Dr Laki	Self-protective versus utilitarian autonomous vehicles		Marco Pavanini	The Twofold Dimension of Human Constitutive Technicity
12:45-14:00	E612: lunch
HNE	Session 3A		KSZ	Session 3B
14:00-14:30	Auli Viidalepp	Deepfakes and generative texts as the problem of recognising the reference		Jernej Kaluža	Filter Bubbles, Algorithmic Habituation, and Democratic Public Sphere: A New Theoretical Grounding?
14:30-15:00	Jurgis Karpus, Mantas Radzvilas, Anna Strasser	I and my digital replica		Giacomo Figà Talamanca	Frameless Folk Psychology: Social Cognition and How Online Context Collapse Nudges Hostility and Epistemic Injustice
15:00-15:30				Kamila Kwapińska	The Political Agency of Robots
15:30-16:00				Annie Kurz	Offline, unplugged, disconnected... a postphenomenological inquiry into absence-relations to technology
16:00-16:15	E612: coffee break
PA	Session 4A
16:15-16:45	János Tanács, István Dankó	Epistemic Conditions of Moral Responsibility in the Case of Chernobyl Nuclear Disaster
16:45-17:15	Anne Herx Weaver	The Ethics of Machine Learning in Health Care Education and Practice
17:15-17:45	Rosalie Waelen	A Critical Theory Approach to AI Ethics
21:00-24:00	conference dinner
	"Trófea Grill Étterem" Address: H-1061 Budapest, Király utca 30-32. Landline: 06-1-878-0522 Mobile: 06-20-999-8797 http://www.trofea.hu/kiraly-utca/

Day 2, 10 December 2021 E202/E205

HM	Session 6A NEW ROOM: E204		DI
9:30-10:00	Ramón Alvarado	The Epistemic Implications of Understanding Computer Simulations as Scientific Instruments
10:00-10:30	Anda Zahiu	If you can do it for entertainment, you can do it for research: On the moral permissibility of simulating sacrificial dilemmas in VR
10:30-11:00	Juraj Hvorecky	Nursing robots, emotions and human dignity
11:00-11:15	coffee break
DI	Session 7A ROOM E204
11:15-11:45	Kristupas Cellutka	The Quantified Self as an Ambiguous Possibility of Resistance Against Surveillance Capitalism

11:45-12:15	Zsolt Garai	Technological reasoning and value co-creation
12:15-12:45	Roman Krzanowski, Pawel Polak	The Internet as an epistemic agent (EA)
12:45-14:00	lunch
PA	Session 8A ROOM E204
14:00-14:30	Jose Alarcón	Ethics of AI
14:30-15:00	Patrik Reizinger	The Falsificationist View of Machine Learning
15:00-15:30	Zsolt Ziegler	Newcomb dilemma in online consumer behavior
15:30-16:00	Héder Mihály	Epistemoral problems
16:00-16:05	Closing remarks
16:05-16:20	Farewell coffee!
Video Recording
Pankaj Singh	Feasibility and Morality of Jonathan Nolan and Lisa Roy's Westworld
Borislav Mihačević	Hardt's and Negri's Notion of Technology
Luca M. Possati	Artificial intuition. The analysis of a supposed "revolution" from a philosophical point of view
Michael W. Schmidt	Highway Blues? Autonomous Driving, Hitchhiking & The Duty to Rescue
Hesam Mohamadi	The Use of Algorithmic Tools in the Criminal Justice System: Beyond Parole Decisions
Karoline Reinhardt	Trust and Trustworthiness in AI Ethics
Filippo Ursitti	The techne as producer of outdated humans
Dolors Palau-Sampio	Conspiracy and pandemic denialism on a hybrid media context: A case study from Spain
Chang-Yun Ku	Good Intention, Bad Intention, and Algorithm: Rethinking the Value of Nudge in the Era of Artificial Intelligence
Juho Lindholm	Technics as Hermeneutics
M.B.O.T. Klenk@tudelft.nl	Design, Alignment, and the Structure of Values
Zacharus Gudmunson	Artificial Systems and Moral Agency: Not a Question of Consciousness
Rasleen Kour	Postphenomenology as elixir vitae to new ethical challenges: Digital currency as a case study
Lukas J. Meier	The Ethics of Computing Ethics
Peeter Mürsepp	New Rationality and Value Alignment
Ethan Hallerman	Machines as Modulations of Risk: the Case of Algorithmic Decision-Making Systems
Agostino Cera	"Run like Gest(H)ell": Philosophy of Technology and the Case of Running
Adam Marcisz	Technological mediation as a social ontology problem
Irene Olivero	A New Essence of Artifacts
Robin Kopecký	Face and Mind of AI				